

SCHOOL DIRECTOR ADVISORY COMMITTEE

An Advisory Group of the Education and Training
Committee

Volume III

IT'S A WRAP!

Turn-out was great for the 2015 Conference. It was nice for staff to put faces with some of the newer directors and qualified assistants, and we hope it proved beneficial for the group to network and socialize. Some great ideas were heard floating around!

There are now power point slides available from some of the sessions on the School Director Corner of the website.

Below are some noteworthy recaps to keep in the front of your mind as we move forward.

- 1) Electronic storage is now allowed! Contact your CJ field rep for specific ideas of how best to implement this process. There are some restrictions.

Goals of the conference included getting educators to think outside the box, instilling a sense of heightened responsibility, and promoting deeper learning. Are you doing this?

- 2) When you enroll a Military BLET student, let CJ Standards staff know! This will greatly assist their tracking process.
- 3) Please separate your full time students from your partials on all test score releases. This helps identify types of limited enrollees. Make a notation if partials are sheriff's specific, sheriff's challenge, out of state transfers, or military students.
- 4) Due to your feedback, Standards will begin also providing limited enrollee pass rates concurrently with full time pass rates which are provided to the community college system for its annual performance report. This will be two separate reports. This is why the part time students cannot be on the same test score release as full time students.

Role of the Advisory Group

It was requested that a more formal mechanism for funneling information to and from CJ Staff both before wide spread changes take effect, as well as after

Upcoming Events

• • •

November 18-20: NC Criminal Justice & Education Training Standards Commission Meeting; Wake Tech Public Safety Campus.

Proposed Rule Amendments

Active Duty Military defined, Suspension of CCH Instructors, Educational Requirements, Revised Training Topic Hours, Non-Military Police Certification, Clarification of SD Responsibilities, Accreditation of CJ Schools, and In-Service Training Coordinators. Visit our website for specific information on the amendments.

Commission action, may be in order. The School Director Advisory Group will fill this role. We anticipate the group meeting with CJ Staff on a quarterly basis to discuss issues from the field and to stay abreast of any Rule changes, forms changes, etc., that may be forthcoming. This will provide you the opportunity to weigh in on matters that directly affect your programs. Ideally, you will contact a group member with concerns that you may not want to bring directly to CJ Staff. Additionally, another meeting will be held after Commission has convened in order to review any actions that are meaningful to you. The process is still being developed, but these meetings may be on a regional basis with your group representative. More information will be forthcoming.

INFORMATION PORTALS

Staff is always available for any question or concern from the field. You are not in any way restricted from directly contacting staff. Other avenues for staying on top of changes in your field include:

1. Come to the Commission meetings! They are open to the public. Dates and times are listed on our website.

2. Regularly visit the School Director Corner webpage. There is a variety of information available that you may find useful.
3. Read CJ Staff emails!
4. Utilize the Advisory Group.
5. Visit the CJ Standards webpage for Rule updates.
